WINTHROP, WASHINGTON – The Methow Valley leads the nation with the most kilometers of dog-friendly skiing. This ski season, in answer to the demand, the Methow Valley Sports Trail Association has increased the number of dog-friendly ski trails to 57 kilometers or 35 miles.

In the Methow Valley the only thing people love more than skiing is skiing with their dogs. MVSTA has expanded the number of kilometers of dog-friendly ski trails to include the Rendezvous area. Winter can often be a hard time of year to exercise your pet; the MVSTA dog-friendly trails provide the perfect solution.

Visiting dog owners to the Methow Valley will find a wide range of canine-friendly accommodations and boarding options. For a map and detailed listing of dog-friendly ski trails check out the MVSTA website <http://www.mvsta.com/winter/dogtrails.html>
